

K1 Visa Documents Needed

If you are applying for a K1 Visa you would need certain documents to prove not only that you are an American but also to prove that you are able to support your fiancée in the United States. The documents needed for most K-1 Visa applications are listed below. These are not a full list of documents and you might require additional documents so always speak to an immigration attorney with regards to any documents you may need for your K-1 Visa application.

To prove that you are an American citizen you need to provide the following: 1. Your birth certificate You will also require the following for the K-1 Visa application:

- Affidavit of Support (Form I-134/I-864);
- Financial statements;
- One color photo of you and your spouse (make sure you meet all the USCIS requirements);
- Completed and signed Forms G-325A for you and your Faincée;
- Passports
- Divorce decrees (if applicable)
- If you or your Faincée are using a name other than on the relevant document, you must submit any documents showing your legal name change (such as: marriage certificate, adoption decree or court order). If you need advice on a K-1 Visa, speak to any of our staff online now or call our tollfree US number at Siam Legal! Alternatively watch our US Visa videos online!